

Mail Distiller

A guide to the service

It is always important to have your key communication method protected, but managing email effectively, delivers additional benefit to your organisation and its users. Mail Distiller offers a complete management system that can be administrated via a secure, easy to use web service.

Complete Virus and Spam Prevention

Mail Distiller Benefits

Mail Distiller is an email security managed service. It acts as an additional layer of security to the internal corporate network. It compliments your existing desktop and server anti-virus software and offers a range of security services. These include:

>>Prevention of distributed denial of service attacks (DDOS)

A distributed denial of service attacks (or DDOS) is aimed at crashing your server. A DDOS works by sending large volumes of spam to your server. The resulting effect is that the service is denied and the server fails or crashes. Mail Distiller stops this occurring by preventing large volumes of spam mail reaching you corporate network, ensuring you are available for business at all time.

>>Faster internet connections!

Mail Distiller helps you maximise the efficiency of existing infrastructural investment! Mail Distiller releases bandwidth by removing up to 70% of the junk that enters your network. This results in fast internet connections, increased efficiency and storage capability on your server and reduces the requirement for email based server maintenance.

>>Zero email downtime for your number one communications medium.

In the event of server downtime, a power cut or a failed internet connection, Mail Distiller will queue your mail until you come back online. It ensures no loss of business critical email. (With our proactive management solution, Mail Distiller will notify you in the event of your service going offline)

>>Addresses employers duty of care for profanity/pornographic content

Mail Distiller filters out SPAM based pornographic content, thereby supporting your legal requirement to take reasonable precautions to avoid such emails. It also removes all viruses ensuring only pure clean email is delivered.

>>A maintenance free service via internet based servers.

Mail Distiller operates externally to your organisation, with no additional hardware or software required. This eliminates the risk of any software conflicts occurring. Our service is managed automatically 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to ensure that your company is protected, faster than any in house solution. The result is better, trouble free protection with no requirement for any intervention on your part.

>>100% Virus free mail

Mail Distiller offers 100% protection against the threats posed by email based viruses. These threats are removed before they reach your network, backed by a 100% guarantee, giving you complete peace of mind.

>>Taking away the time wasting grief that is spam

Currently 70%+ of all email is spam. By introducing Mail Distiller, this volume is effectively eliminates the need for staff to filter junk mail manually freeing up valuable time.
